NOTES TO THE BUDGET FOR 1899-1900

The Professors are qualified for pension under the Discontinuation Act, subject to their holding the conditions required of persons in the permanent Civil Service of the State. No special laws have been made to support the pension of any Professor. But in the case of the Professor of Anatomy in the Medical College, who resigned his appointment in 1893, but was afterwards reinstated, at the request of the President of the College, in the public interest, to withdraw his resignation, the Treasury were directed to consider in applying this law to him, as his first retirement, shall not be of less service than if he had retired in 1893.

REVIEW showing, in the case of the Presidents of the University, the following Positions—1. Date of Appointment of each Professor, designating those who were in office on the date of passing of the Royal University Act of 1854; 2. Dates of Appointments, and to the present time, respectively, 3. Whether the whole sum of the Professors is granted to the Public Service. 4. Whether a right to Professors to compensation or otherwise needs under the Civil Service Compensation Act, or otherwise, and whether any Special Terms, as regards to Professors, have been made with any Professor.

[Mr. President.]
